

Adam DeWitt, Chief Executive Officer

Adam DeWitt is the chief executive officer of Grubhub where he leads all functions across the U.S. business. Prior to this role, Adam was Grubhub's president and chief financial officer. During his tenure of more than a decade at the company, Grubhub's annual revenues grew from $20 million to more than $2 billion, and he led the company through its initial public offering in 2014. Before joining Grubhub, Adam was the CFO of publicly-held optionsXpress Holdings, Inc. He is a member of the board of directors of Ritchie Bros. (NYSE: RBA) and The Joffrey Ballet. Adam has a bachelor's degree in economics from Dartmouth College.

---

Adam Patnaude, Chief Financial Officer

---

Eric Ferguson, Chief Operations Officer

---

Maggie Drucker, Chief Legal Officer

---

Kelley Berlin, Chief Human Resources Officer

---

Join Our Team

Grubhub's purpose is to connect diners and restaurants. To achieve this, we strive to create a workplace that reflects the diversity of our customers and the communities we serve. We're a community of more than 3,000 employees who work together to think like owners and innovate like entrepreneurs.

SEE OPEN POSITIONS

Get to know us

Useful links

Connect with us

Connect with us

Partner with us

© 2022 Grubhub • All rights reserved.