

SUSTAINABILITY

Our Private Label Suppliers

Transparency as a driver for change

We believe that greater transparency is an important way to drive change, enabling companies and consumers to turn information into informed choices and in turn creating a better fashion industry for all. Therefore, we progressively disclose our list of suppliers and their factories. Due to the size and variety of our product range, Zalando Private Labels (Anna Field, Even&Odd, Friboo, Pier One, Yourturn, ZIGN) does not own any of the factories in our supply chain. Instead we collaborate with suppliers with years of technical expertise in their respective areas.

Below we have disclosed 100% of our 113 suppliers and 195 active Tier 1 factories. Within the supply chain of our Private Labels, Tier 1 suppliers and factories are those involved in the final manufacturing stage of the product and its packaging for shipping. In addition, we have started disclosing Tier 2 factories, relating to core final material manufacturers & leather tanneries for our shoes & accessories products. We are committed to increasing transparency and disclosing deeper levels of our supply chain on an ongoing basis.

You can also find our suppliers on the Open Apparel Registry, an open source tool that maps garment facilities worldwide and allocates a unique ID to each facility.

[Data as of May 2022]

Download Full List

Zalando's Private Labels suppliers [data as of May 2022]

XLSX / 85.27kB

Private Label Supplier Map

Related Content

do.MORE

Planet

Products

People

SUSTAINABILITY

do.MORE – our sustainability strategy

To be a sustainable fashion platform with a net-positive impact for people and the planet

SUSTAINABILITY

TO OVERVIEW

SUSTAINABILITY

Reducing our carbon footprint

Climate change is one of the defining challenges of our time. We want to be part of the solution.

Zalando SE

Our Impact

Brands and Retailers

Explore Zalando

Follow us on

Legal Notice Privacy Policy Data Preferences

© 2022 Zalando SE All rights reserved.