Thank you for taking an interest in our company approach to preventing “Modern Slavery” in both our company and supply chain.

Modern Slavery can occur in various forms including servitude, forced or compulsory labour and human trafficking, all of which include the deprivation of a person’s (an adult or child’s) liberty by another.

Panasonic UK published its first Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement in September 2016. This year’s and previous year’s statements are available below. We update the statement once a year.

Panasonic UK is committed to a work environment that is free from Modern Slavery in accordance with the laws and regulations of the United Kingdom.

We operate a zero tolerance approach to Modern Slavery and we are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships and to applying effective systems and controls to ensure Modern Slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business or in any of our supply chains.

Modern Slavery Statement – September 2023

Having read our latest statement, if you would like to know more about Panasonic’s approach to sustainability, including respect for human rights, please read our latest Sustainability Data Book which is available here: https://www.panasonic.com/global/corporate/sustainability/downloads/sec/inqform.html

Previous year’s statements are available below

Modern Slavery Statement – September 2022
Modern Slavery Statement – September 2021
Modern Slavery Statement – September 2020
Modern Slavery Statement – September 2019
Modern Slavery Statement – September 2018
Modern Slavery Statement – September 2017
Modern Slavery Statement – September 2016