About Schöffel PRO

In 1804, the foundation was laid for one of Bavaria's oldest family businesses. Since then, the company Schöffel has been developed generation after generation, step by step, with great pioneering spirit, the European industry. In its seventh generation, the company is led by Peter Schöffel. For over 200 years, Schöffel has stood for tradition and modernity, experience and innovation, craftsmanship and high-tech, regional roots and global connectivity, as well as social and ecological responsibility. Schöffel PRO rethinks workwear: Born in nature. Made for work. Our aim is to make workwear more functional and individual and to equip companies with corporate and workwear - from the office to the construction site. With high wearing comfort, innovative solutions and sporty style, our workwear supports you in your daily work. You can rely on our quality and high value. At the Schöffel Group, the focus is on the individual and their specific requirements. And for many decades, Schöffel has met those demands as one of the world's oldest outdoor clothing manufacturers in leisure and with Schöffel PRO also at work.
