Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

InterGen is an independent power producer generating more than 3,200 megawatts. Headquartered in Edinburgh, InterGen has power plants located in the UK and Australia, as well as offices in Brisbane.

Our goal is to be a company where ethical behavior and respect for everyone is the foundation. At InterGen, we are committed to conducting our global business with the highest ethical and legal standards. We have a responsibility to adhere to our core values and maintain our focus on safety, integrity, teamwork, community and entrepreneurship.

Our Code of Conduct translates our core values into behavioral standards and sets out fundamental principles of business conduct expected from InterGen’s Supervisory Board, officers, employees, business partners, suppliers, contractors, and agents.

We are committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business.

Regarding UK and international supply chains, we expect these entities to have suitable anti-slavery and human trafficking policies and processes. We expect each entity in the supply chain to, at least, adopt “one-up” due diligence on the next link in the chain. It is not practical for us (and every other participant in the chain) to have a direct relationship with all links in the supply chain.

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes our company’s slavery and human trafficking statement for the current financial year.
