Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement for and on behalf of Liberty Specialty Markets

Summary
LSM companies (see below) are proud of the conditions of employment for all of their staff. Given the nature of their business, the LSM boards and management teams consider that there is minimal risk that either within LSM or via the limited supply chains which support its business activities, LSM is in any way involved in or even tangentially supportive of, or complicit in slavery and human trafficking.

This statement has been made pursuant to the obligations arising under section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015. This statement should be considered to constitute the slavery and human trafficking statement for all UK companies within the LSM Group.

Anti-slavery and anti-human trafficking policies
LSM is committed to ensuring that human trafficking and modern slavery do not exist in the supply chains in any part of LSM’s business. LSM has and will continue to maintain a zero tolerance for modern slavery and human trafficking and will be taking all necessary steps to ensure that this is maintained. LSM’s internal and external whistleblowing procedures, which are published and regularly updated on LSM’s intranet page, are ingrained in the company’s corporate culture.

Due diligence processes and risk assessment method
LSM understands the importance of introducing effective steps to ensure human trafficking and modern slavery is not supported at any level of business.

LSM will use rigorous due diligence processes to help identify potential suppliers, TPAs and supply chains who hold values similar to that of LSM, insisting on a zero tolerance on modern slavery and human trafficking.

Risk analysis and identification is of paramount importance to LSM. The following steps and procedures are designed to identify and assess areas of risk and ensure that all areas of LSM’s business comply with LSM’s philosophy:

- Any material and high risk supply chains, TPAs and contractors are asked to confirm compliance to ensure that they do not assist, contribute or actively participate in modern slavery and human trafficking.
- LSM reserves a right of audit with any material and high risk supplier, contractor or TPA.
Training
LSM will initiate a process of regular training for all who fall under LSM’s employment to help raise awareness of modern slavery and human trafficking. It is LSM’s intention for all employees to be aware of LSM’s stance. Training will assist employees on how to identify and combat risks of modern slavery and human trafficking.

Effectiveness
By way of effectively combatting modern slavery and human trafficking, LSM brings this statement to the attention of all LSM employees.

All employees who will commence employment at LSM are required to read this statement as part of their induction to LSM.
