We work with a range of suppliers mainly investment fund managers, suppliers of facilities and corporate services, professional services and administration services. We also maintain investor relationships concerning our statutory investment and ancillary activities.

3. Policy

We are committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in any part of our business or our supply chain.

4. Our approach to supplier due diligence and risk assessment

As a public sector organisation we carry out assessments on our direct suppliers in accordance with the Public Contracts Regulations 2015 (and have done so since the implementation of these Regulations). With effect from financial year 16/17 we have focused on enhancing our annual Compliance checks on Group 1\textsuperscript{1} direct suppliers and their contracts. These checks include a review of:

- the supplier’s approach to preventing slavery and human trafficking and relevant policies;

\textsuperscript{1} We have identified Group 1 direct suppliers as those suppliers with contracts which are of high value or are of medium value and business critical for the Board’s operations and/or activities.
• whether the organisation (or any person within it) has been convicted under any slavery laws in the countries in which it operates within the last five years; and

• the supplier’s own slavery and human trafficking statement as published on their website.

5. Our business-wide due diligence and risk assessment framework

We operate a robust business-wide risk framework which takes into account broader business integrity issues. This is supported by an Operational Risk team and a Compliance and Ethics team. Although we invest funds in a range of industry sectors across multiple jurisdictions, we have robust monitoring and ongoing due diligence processes in place to mitigate key risks including slavery and human trafficking. As regards our direct supplier relationships, we have taken the specific approach described in section 4 above.

6. Our Progress and actions taken

We promote a company-wide sense of responsibility to prevent modern slavery and human trafficking in our business operations. Our work around Modern Slavery is complemented by our existing framework of policies including Code of Ethics and Whistleblowing which reinforce cultural and ethical business practices. Details of actions taken during 2017/18:

• We have completed the annual review questionnaire for our Group 1 suppliers allowing us to identify and monitor possible issues around slavery and human trafficking.

• As part of our operational due diligence processes when reviewing external manager investments, we take into account how firms comply with modern slavery requirements including how they monitor and verify supply chains of their portfolio investments.

• Modern Slavery is now covered as part of our ongoing compliance monitoring and training programme. Awareness of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 is included in the Compliance and Ethics corporate induction for new starters.

7. Next Steps

We are committed to enhancing our approach to any possible issues around modern slavery and human trafficking within our business operations.

• We will continue to review processes for assessing the risks arising from modern slavery and human trafficking and where appropriate will look to develop further performance indicators to report on the effectiveness of our approaches for ensuring modern slavery and trafficking is not taking place.

• We will continue to review existing supplier due diligence processes for assessing the risks arising from modern slavery and human trafficking, which can be complex and difficult to identify.

• We will consider focused training for key teams in order to maintain awareness of the issues around Modern Slavery.
This statement is made in accordance with section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes the Board’s slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year 2017/2018 covering the period from April 2017 to March 2018.

Signed on behalf of The Board of the Pension Protection Fund
